The First 50 Years

August 31, 2007 will usher in Malaysia's 50th year of independence or Merdeka, "Constitutional Landmarks in Malaysia: The First 50 Years" is being published by LexisNexis to commemorate this historic milestone. This unique book provides a comprehensive and in-depth expert analysis on the evolution of the Malaysian constitutional system since Merdeka Day.

Written by a team of distinguished and respected scholars and members of the Malaysian Bar and Judiciary, this book contains a number of scholarly essays, historical and contemporary photographs, potted biographies of important figures, timelines and lists of office holders. It also examines the three major crises in the Malaysian constitution in contemporary times - the 1983 constitutional crisis; the 1988 judiciary crisis; and the constitutional crisis of 1993. The fallout from these major shakeups are explored and the changing patterns of constitutionalism are analysed.

Taking a comprehensive approach, the book's contents include:

- The evolution of the new independent Federation of Malaya up to the proclamation of independence on 31 August 1957
- Motivations behind the creation of Malaysia, negotiations and the various political events leading to the formation of Malaysia 1963
- Political dynamics which led to Singapore joining the Malaysian Federation
- The 'MAY 13th' crisis

Lawyers, government and public sector officials, academics, politicians, other professionals and the general public will find Constitutional Landmarks in Malaysia: The First 50 Years an essential reading in that it provides accessible coverage of the major constitutional developments and landmark cases.
